Little footprints on a paper,
Tiny footprints stamped on white.
No smiling pictures of your bath time,
No running, or flying a kite.

Such sparse memories I have of you,
Sweet, beautiful, babies of mine.
No keepsake rattles or bronzed shoes,
No treasures for me to find.

Just tiny little footprints,
That I look at every day,
My memories of two little boys,
That the angels took away.

We will make a million memories,
When Daddy and I get there,
Oh wait, we'll make it two million,
After all, you are a pair.

AUTHOR NOTE:

I wrote this for a friend who was in my Compassionate Friends group. She lost twins who lived only a few hours each.
